On September 27, 2023, Department of Computer Science organized a seminar on "Soft Skills Nurturing Programme" aimed at equipping students with essential non-technical skills crucial for personal and professional growth. The seminar covered a wide range of topics including communication skills, teamwork, leadership development and emotional intelligence. Participants engaged in practical exercises and discussions, gained perceptions and practical tips to enhance their soft skills proficiency. The seminar concluded with a call to action for participants to apply their newfound knowledge and skills in their academic and professional pursuits. Overall, the Soft Skills Nurturing Programme provided valuable opportunities for students to develop key competencies necessary for success in today's dynamic workplace environment.

Outcomes:

- Students recognized the importance of communication skills, teamwork, leadership development, and emotional intelligence.
- They understood the usage of soft skills in personal and professional development.
- They applied the knowledge gained from the seminar to real-life situations, such as effectively communicating with others, collaborating in teams, demonstrating leadership qualities, and managing emotions.
