Research and Development Policy

Research and Development is a methodical process used to seek solutions to societal problems as well as to create new knowledge and products. The basis of knowledge, research creates art facilities, encourages research publications, promotes collaborations, and becomes an integral part of an engaged community. The college must see to it that all disciplinary research advances in accordance with ethical principles. The college is dedicated to giving faculty members and students the necessary financial and physical support to encourage research and create a robust research ecosystem.

The objective of the policy is:

- To create an excellent infrastructure and a research environment.
- To integrate teaching and research.
- To promote inter, multi and transdisciplinary research.
- To publish papers in journals of international repute, file patents and transfer technologies to relevant industries.
- To promote socially relevant research that adheres to scholarship standards and human values.
- To establish a connection with the larger community, including industries, colleges, and other higher education institutions.
- To continuously monitor the research outputs for ensuring quality by appropriate committees.
- To create research and development programmes with industrial collaborations that is mutually beneficial.
- To recognize both faculty and students on their research achievements by a research award.

- To motivate faculty members for developing, protecting, and utilizing Intellectual Property Rights.
- To encourage the practice of conducting socially beneficial research that has commercialization potential.
- To establish Research Centres within University with potential for excellence.
- To establish interdisciplinary collaborations and partnerships both nationally and internationally.
- To empower faculty members to publish quality research work with ethics and integrity.

College encourages its faculty to apply for research projects from international, national funding agencies apart from local bodies, industries and other funding sources for research projects. In accordance with the UGC norms, high standards of research output are one of the main criteria for the recruitment and promotion of faculty.

- Teachers without PhD are encouraged to pursue and complete their PhD.
- In compliance with PhD Regulations, the eligible Faculty is encouraged to guide PhD research students.

Management encourages various departments to hold workshops on research technique, with a strong focus on research ethics. Awareness is also created to faculty members by invited talks in ethics in research. PhD research scholars are also taught research ethics as part of their coursework because ethics is a crucial component of the coursework.
